HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

The long felt need of having a College at Martandam resulted in the starting of Christian College, in June, 1964 by the Kanyakumari Diocese, which made available for this purpose, 20 acres of land with some buildings already present on it, as well as a very liberal grant. The public in and around Martandam also became very much interested in the project and raised a substantial amount for the College. As stipulated by the University, the Diocese also set apart sufficient extent of wet lands, as endowment, the annual income of which amounting to Rs. 18,000/- goes to the College. The Madras University gave permission to start Pre-University Class with 171 students. The College was inaugurated on 6th August, 1964 by Bishop. Gnanadason in the presence of a distinguished gathering.

Next year, the University granted permission to start Degree classes with Mathematics, History and Economics as Major subjects. Also the number of batches in the P. U. Class was increased to five.

From the academic year 1966-'67 the College is affiliated to the Madurai University. During the year permission was granted for starting Physics as a major subject in the Degree Class. The number of batches in P. U. Class rose to six.

The Building programme got under way with the laying of the foundation stone by Prof. T. P. Meenakshisundaram, Vice-Chancellor of the University on 15-11-1966. The completed part of the ground floor which now houses the Physics and Zoology Laboratories with a few class rooms in between was declared open by Bishop A. M. Hollis, the first Moderator of the Church of South India on 28-1-1970.

The academic year 1967-'68 saw the starting of Zoology and History with Tamil medium in the Degree Classes and the addition of two more batches in the P. U. Classes. The first batch of Degree Students for the final University Examinations was presented in April, 1968.

Now the subjects taught in the Degree Classes are Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Zoology, History, History with Tamil medium and Economics. At present the strength of the College is 1674

In the marvellous growth of the College, God has guided and blessed us immensely. With faith in Divine guidance and co-operation from the public, it is hoped, that this College will very soon, be a large temple of learning.

PART II

Pre-University New Syllabus in English.

(April 1971)

Syllabus,

The syllabus aims at selective learning. In order to strengthen the language skills of the student, he is to be given training in reading, writing, speaking and comprehending.

Language Items: Students should be able to understand and use the most important and common sentence patterns of the language. A guide to these patterns is contained in French F.G. 'English in tables (O.U.P.) and in the student's course book. (See section 'C' below).

Vocabulary: Vocabulary must also be selected at this stage. Students should concentrate on mastering the use of the first 3,500 most common words in context'

Fortunately, a considerable amount of work has been done in determining what the most common and useful words are. Books making use of this research should be used. (See section C below)

C. Books Recommended:

1. Books for the student:

Each student should have a copy of the following two courses books:

(a) Carroll B. J. and others: The Bridge Intensive Course. O.U.P. Rs. 1.95)

(b) Spencer D. H. and Hornby A. H.: An Intermediate English Course for Adult Learners. (O. U. P. Rs. 3)

These books are designed for detailed study, and will form the basis for classroom work throughout the year.

(c) Extensive Reading Books: In addition, students should read widely during the course. Such reading should be of literature in the wider sense of the word, including the literature of science and the arts. The matter should be educational, worthwhile and enjoyable, but at the same time the language should not be too difficult for students of this standard. Those books which have been specially edited in accordance with the principles mentioned in section B above are recommended. This reading programme must be followed by the student independently i. e. he should not expect the lecturer to read the books for him and supply him with notes on 'the important points'. Incidentally, it should be made known that the most efficient way to prepare for the examination on these extensive reading books is simple to read them.

It is suggested that 10 (Ten) books should be read in this way during the year. Colleges should buy sets of these titles for loan to students.

The following books are recommended:

- 1 The Wreck—R. Tagore. (Macmillan's Stories to Remember, Senior Series)

- 2 The adventures of Mohan—R. M. Whyte (Pattern Readers Macmillan)
- 3 Swami and Friends—R. K. Narayanan (Indian Thought Publications)
- 4 David Copperfield—Charles Dickens Retold By J. Kenneth-Blackie and Son Ltd.
- 5 The Mill on the Floss - George Eliot (Macmillan's stories to remember, Senior series)
